Chair Notes

How I love the readings this time of year! The Acts of the Apostles readings seem so positive. The early followers of Jesus had a lot of energy and faith. What would our lives look like if we had the confidence and faith of the early Christians?

Great faith and confidence was exhibited at the calling forth meeting in April. We had a room full of participants who agreed to participate fully in Nova for the coming year. Everyone stepped up to the plate. Here are the interests expressed: (If anyone was left out or misquoted, I expect an angry letter to the editor).

- Marcelline Neimann--Hospitality new and present members
- Ilise Yath Cruces--Confirmation/affirmation
- Tim White--Music and Gunston
- Bill Meyer--Music
- Jim Furlong--Occasional adventures for adults, slide from Todaros converted to digital and CDs, continue to collect digital archives Collect the writings of Bob Hovda
- Anne Passin--Liturgy
- Kate Doherty--Weekend projects
- Jeannie Clarkson--Retreat
- Cece Micheloti--Retreat, Gunston, Christ Houses Habitat
- Alida Yath Cruces--Retreat, welcome committee for new members
- Jerry Barrett--Gunston, Overnight at St. Clements, Doing something about the Nova history, looking at these panels, Chair NOVA history nights, - a series of articles in the newsletter to "educate" or "refresh" community members on the consensus model of decision making.
- David Mog and Clyde Christofferson--work on digital archive
- Rose, Barret--Women's luncheons, Joy -
- Dianne Carroll--Social Justice
- John MM--Commitment to the Somali family--youth religious ed program, family based community support,--Quest for Peace
- Peggy Becker--Adult religious formation
- Meg Tucillo--History, Bob Havda history, how we came to be and moving forward --Calling Forth - Add 3 new panels to Nova's history each year, Board on Aspan, 70,000
- David Mog - Environmental Liturgy, Earth Care group within the community
- Gloria Mog - Music Group Liturgies

- Clyde Christofferson --3 year cycle he is working on will be finished in November. He will work on CD of homilies , Library
- Jerry (Jim and Clyde) will email everyone of what you are doing. Meg and I can comb through the Nova boxes
- Eric Carroll--Coop, Gunston
- Peggy Meyer --Writing a book--being voice for Nova for people who call Photocopy of things that go into the liturgy. Working with social justice, adult education, Idiot's Guide to Catholicism
- Catholic Teaching on Social Justice Series
- Tim White--Music, Religious Education , Thursdays at Gunston
- Marie Pinho - Editor, Nova Notes

Two of the greatest promises came from John and Nancy Veldhuis who agreed to be co-chairs with me for the coming year. Three cheers for Nancy and John! Everyone at Nova (ESPECIALLY ME) breathes easier having John and Nancy on board. Unfortunately, with Nancy as chair Nova needs a Community Life coordinator to arrange for house blessings, organize meals for those in need (recovery from illness, funeral flowers remeberances - flowers or donation in remembrance ) [ Thanks to Nancy for taking such careful notes.]

Perhaps the greatest need expressed at the calling forth was for adult education both for the young adults and those who are not so young. Some young adults may feel that they don't have the formation in faith that the older generation takes for granted. Education may be an important need to enable progressive Catholics and Christians to counter some of the conservative Christian beliefs so common today,

In retrospect it might not have been so great to have been alive at the time of the early Christians. I am not much for drinking poison or handling poisonous snakes or working miracles. Being tortured or fed to lions doesn't sound like fun either. The Spirit sure can be tricky. Sadly, Christians 2000 years ago were tortured for professing their faith. Today, some people who profess Christianity in this country are doing the torturing.

Shalom

The Corporal's Boots

The film is a journey through the boots of American soldiers who died in Iraq. The boots were sectioned by state and arranged in rows as if the soldiers were standing at parade rest. The exhibit passed through the United States. When it stopped in Washington State, a viewer who had a son in the military went to see it. She tells her moving experience of the exhibit and her pause to rest in front of one pair of boots.

News/Announcements .....

Nova Sunday Lecture Series launched this Summer

Some of the Nova members have expressed deep concern about the extreme hostilities in today's world - a concern that is undoubtedly shared by all of us. We feel almost powerless over this situation; but we are convinced that one or two people can make a difference. Imagine a world without weapons. Hold this thought.

To spur us on in this direction, there will be an innovative summer series of lectures titled "Peace in Today's World." A 15-minute mini-lecture, followed by dialogue, will be offered each month following the Mass. An attempt will be made to somewhat foreshorten the Mass on those Sundays. An agape will be served between the liturgy and the lecture. Announcements regarding the schedule of monthly summer lectures will appear in the Newsletter.

We encourage you to attend. Marcelline Niemann will host the series. The inaugural lecture took place on Sunday, May 28, at Lacey Woods Park. The topic, "The God of Violence and Love: Our God," was delivered by Warren Reich. You are encouraged to participate on subsequent Sundays.

Topic/Speaker Schedule...

- 6/25 Peace Negotiation, a Skit

- 7/23 Non-Violence

Sunday in the Park with Warren

Having just returned from the first in a series which was inaugurated by five women who gathered for the May Monthly Nova Women's Meeting, I must tell you it was a feast for the body and the soul. Thanks to Victoria Robinson and Frances DiSpigno, and our musicians, the Liturgy was a perfect segue into Warren Reich's presentation, "The God of Violence and Love: our God." In her statement of theme, Victoria reminded us: "In the Gospel, Jesus advocates for us to the Creator-God: 'consecrate the disciples in truth...your word is truth...send them out, give them courage & joy...keep them in Your name.' Love and joy can give us courage." It takes courage to accept Warren's concept of God in relation to violence which he presented with clarity and vision and to which the Community responded with conviction. We will offer a summary of the presentation in the next Newsletter. Clyde recorded the entire event. We extend our thanks to Anna Reich for nourishing our bodies with a bagel feast. Truth to tell, her encouragement and enthusiasm made the feast for body and soul happen.

We look forward to four more such Sundays during the summer.

ISAIAH PRISON MINISTRY UPDATE

Dear Nova Friends,

It was our great joy to “break bread” with you in March! We felt so comfortable, so welcome, so glad to see so many good friends. There is never enough time to visit, but we truly enjoyed the moment of catching up that we had. Every time we come we marvel that those five short years in Washington, 1970-1975, could have changed our personal, spiritual, and family lives so dramatically. Since that time Nova has been the “beacon on the hill” for us, the model we look to in all kinds of decision-making situations. We continue to draw strength and encouragement from your existence, and you continue to shape our lives. Thank you for being all that you are!

Thank you, too, for continuing to support my prison work. I was ordained a priest three years ago with the expressed intention of doing bi-vocational ministry under the title “Isaiah Prison Ministry: Building Bridges, Changing Lives.” St. James Episcopal Church in Preston, CT has been my spiritual home base since I began as an intern in the fall of 2001. I continue now as an associate priest assisting with worship on Sundays and with pastoral care during the week. The Episcopal Diocese of Connecticut helped St. James begin this outreach effort with a three-year grant. Isaiah Prison Ministry is now supported by funds from Nova, from A Sacred Place, a nonprofit foundation set up by the Reverend Laurie Etter to promote spiritually based programs at York Correctional Institution, and by contributions from St. James, area churches, and individuals.

My prison work is both “inside” and “outside” prison walls. My primary ministry “inside” is as a volunteer chaplain with women at York Correctional Institution, the Connecticut State Women’s Prison in Niantic, CT. This is my eighth year as a prison volunteer and my third year as coordinator of the Chrysalis Community, a one of a kind interfaith living unit on the grounds of York, CI established the Reverend Laurie Etter, head chaplain at York. Two days a week I work with 45 women to help them develop the spiritual strength and life skills they need to live lives that are drug-free and crime-free. I also recruit and train women of faith from local church communities to work one-on-one with the women of Chrysalis in a relationship we call Prayer Partners. The program is now in its fourth year, we have about 100 full graduates 75 of whom have been released. Our reincarceration rate is about 12% in comparison with the national average of 75% -- so we know we are making a difference! I am also a founding member and grant writer for A Sacred Place,

My prison ministry “outside” is the piece that has grown most dramatically in the last year. It includes preaching and speaking to raise awareness of the needs of women in prison, finding volunteers, and raising funds to support my work through Isaiah Prison Ministry. I am also on the Design Team for “Epiphany: Mentoring for Ex-Offenders.” This pilot project, based at Calvary St. George’s Episcopal Church in Bridgeport, CT, seeks to “reduce the rate of reincarceration among offenders by creating a network of support to help individuals build successful lives in society” after their release from prison. The first woman to participate in Epiphany came from our Chrysalis program and is doing very well! We held one training conference for Connecticut faith communities interested in mentoring in March and will host another in the fall. In the past year, at the request of the bishop, I have also helped organize a new diocesan prison ministry group that we call “Faith Behind Bars.” Our goals include putting prison ministry on the diocesan and parish mission agendas, recruiting “inside” volunteers and “outside” mentors, gathering legislative support for changes in the prison system, and raising funds to support prison volunteers. We had our first news article in the diocesan newspaper in January and are planning to have a booth at the Diocesan Convention in the fall.

Our parish prison ministry has other aspects, as well. When women from York come to work at St. James, we provide a homemade hot lunch or a carryout treat from a local restaurant -- and lots of TLC and good conversation around the table. Two women from St. James serve as Chrysalis Prayer Partners at the prison. When I have needed yarn, fabric, or books – or anything else – church members come forward.

In the year ahead I hope to continue to develop the Chrysalis Community at York, to doing more preaching and speaking, to building community among Episcopalians doing prison ministry through “Faith Behind Bars,” and to finding more Prayer Partners from all faiths for Chrysalis and more mentoring faith groups for Epiphany. The days are full, varied, and short! Fundraising time is scarce, and your support has been more precious than ever this year. Most of all, I appreciate your prayers and your encouragement. I need it all! “It takes a Village...” Thank you for being my Village and for continuing to be a source of inspiration for us both!

With love and prayers,

~Valerie Dixon

News/Announcements .....

Dear Friends in NOVA.

I want to thank all of you who sent cards, left phone messages, prayed, or in any other way, sent support after learning I had lost both of my parents, a day apart, in early December. It meant a great deal to me, because NOVA meant so much to me and my family during our nine years in the community ('72-'81). I have been devastated and overwhelmed by this unexpected loss, and am only now "coming up for air". Please forgive me for not acknowledging sooner, or personally, your kindnesses.

Despite being quite traditional Catholics, my parents always loved coming to NOVA. I think my father, a convert from the Methodist Church, loved the singing, and my mother loved the warmth and caring. They attended two family Baptisms, two family First Communions, and several Easter sunrise services at NOVA. They knew how important NOVA was to me and Joe.

My parents were in their early 80's. However, we were most unprepared for their unexpected and rather sudden deaths, especially together. My father in particular had never been in a hospital since I knew him. Suddenly, they were both hospitalized, with different illnesses, previously undiagnosed. I am the eldest of 8 siblings. Four of my sisters joined me in caring for them, in Florida, during the last three weeks of their lives. We celebrated their lives in a joint Mass of the Resurrection in the parish they helped found. All 8 of us were there, and most of the grandchildren.

We have happy news, as well. Our youngest, Francis, baptized in NOVA in 1979, is getting married Memorial Day weekend, to his long-time love, REbecca. It will be a poignant time, however, for my parents would have been there. But we will have them in Spirit. Please keep us, and, especially Fran, in your prayers on that day, May 27. I know that God continues to bless us all. I learned so much about that in NOVA. Love and prayers,

~ Kathy Zinn

Dear NOVA,

As I mentioned at church on Sunday, my sister Brigid and I are walking in the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life. We're all barraged by requests for money for one good cause after another, and I know sometimes it's too much. Still, I'd like to ask you to consider supporting this one. I think about all the people I know whose lives have been devastated by cancer - of long and courageous struggles through years of treatment, of the pain of losing loved ones before their time, of the grieving for what might have been and longing for what was. We live it over and over - dread hearing the news, wonder how we'll cope if it hits us, yearn to lift the burden from people we love, pray for strength and healing. If money can help find a cure, and if you have any to spare, this is worth doing. The link below will get you to the website where you can contribute.

Thanks to those of you who've already donated. I have a couple of checks as well - haven't forgotten you, but haven't figured out how to get them up on the list.

To visit my personal web page and help me in my efforts to support Relay For Life Of Rockville, go to <http://www.acsevents.org/faf/r.asp?t=4&i=128627&u=128627-127780985&e=617444247>
